Life science companies from the 11 European regions participating in the Interreg project Boost4Health will be meeting at the Maersk tower on Tuesday 6 November 2018

Claus Kristensen from GlycoDisplay will introduce the company and host a guided tour of the laboratories. Following this, a classic company pitch for the participating companies. Finally, there will be plenty of time for informal networking with participants.

Would you like to pitch your company?

Do you want to be one of the lucky ones selected to pitch? Sign up with your pitch title and an abstract no later than 15 October.

Check out the specific requirements at:

biopeople.eu/calendar/event/boost4health-matchmaking-copenhagen

Please sign up by mailing the abstract to Cluster Manager Jane Nøhr at jane.noehr@biopeople.ku.dk with the subject line "Matchmaking Event 6 November 2018".

Selected companies will receive additional information. All submitted abstracts will be handed out at the matchmaking event to showcase companies to as many as possible.

Would you like to participate in the event?

You are welcome. But please register at:
